

Middlebury

Special Collections & Archives

Vermont History Day

Special Collections at Davis Family Library serves as a research laboratory for both the Middlebury community and independent scholars. We welcome researchers to explore our collections of rare books, archives, manuscripts, photographs, audio and video recordings, and other unique materials that tell the story of our collective past.

Visit

Middlebury Special Collections is open by appointment on weekdays. Anyone can use our collections, regardless of background, age, or affiliation. Special Collections is located on the lower level of Davis Family Library.

- Use our online calendar to schedule a research visit.
- Have a question? Visit go/asksc/ or email specialcollections@middlebury.edu
- Holiday and summer hours vary. See the Davis Family Library hours for details.
- View the Middlebury College campus map for more information.

Topic Ideas

- Equal Rights for Same-Sex Couples - Vermont Freedom to Marry Task Force Records.
- Folk song, folklore, and balladry - Helen Hartness Flanders Ballad Collection.
- Railroads - Rutland Railroad Records
- Vermonters at War and on the Homefront
- Abolition and Anti-Slavery
- Vermont Authors
- Social and Cultural History (love letters, diaries, photographs)
- History of Middlebury College - College Archives

Find Us Online

- Digitized Special Collections
<https://archive.org/details/middleburycollege>
- Guides to Physical Archives
<https://archivesspace.middlebury.edu/>
- Library Catalog.
<https://librarysearch.middlebury.edu/>
- Learn more about discovering resources at Middlebury
<https://middlebury.libguides.com/specialcollections>

Special Collections
Davis Family Library 101
110 Storrs Avenue
Middlebury, VT 05753
Email:
SpecialCollections@middlebury.edu
Tel: (802) 443-2387