"Breakfast of Champions"

Thrilling Story of Ethan Allen and the Redcoat

The American Revolution has just begun. Fort Ticonderoga is held by the British. The Americans are desperate for cannon, but the stronghold must be taken!

Courageous Ethan Allen, Colonel-Commandant, leads his Green Mountain Boys against the Fort. Stealthily they creep up. A handful of men against a fort! Then up rushes Ethan Allen, gun held high! The Redcoats fight bravely, but Ethan Allen battles his way to their Captain. "Surrender!" he cries, and the fort is captured. One of the world's great victories in the Fight for Freedom!

Ethan Allen is on this package. Get the Redcoat on another Wheaties package at your grocer's.

How to Make

ETHAN ALLEN

1 Cut around all the pieces on the back of the box. Be sure to cut very carefully. Next, firmly trace on dotted lines with pencil. This will make folding easier.

2 Cut slots A, C, D and G on coat; and also slot P on body. Fold dotted lines on leg.

3 Fold along dotted line on sword. Cut slot O in sword and push slot Q in slot P on body.

4 Fold both ends of coat around and push slot C down thru slot D—like this

5 Push left leg in slot G—like this

6 Fold head on dotted line and push both tabs A in slot A.

FIGHT FOR FREEDOM

For many centuries people all over the world have fought to win the kind of freedom we all cherish. We Americans fight to protect our own heritage of freedom when necessary, but we are constantly striving by peaceful means to achieve freedom throughout the world.

These and other situations from the age-old Fight for Freedom were selected in consultation with eminent historians. Details established as historically correct by a University research expert.
